LEARN TO SPEAK GETAWAY

A to Z GUIDEBOOK

the Getaway Black Monday

Welcome to the "Learn to Speak Getaway A to Z Guidebook," your exclusive passport to the best-kept secrets of London. Inside, you'll find phrases, tips and hints to help you make the most of your visit. With its dark alleys, brutal customs and shady characters, we're sure it's a place you won't soon forget.

So go on, me old china, 'ave a butcher's.

Attractions

Seeing the sights of London

First settled in 43 A.D., London has long been known for its rich culture and famous landmarks. But if you look closer, you'll find evidence of the city's bloody history on every corner.

"Can I ponce a few quid?"

Useful Phrases

Point me to the chippie, guv.
Where's the fish and chips restaurant?

Where's the karzy? I'm dying for a gypsy's.
Where are the bathrooms? I need to urinate.

Can I ponce a few quid?
Can you give me some money?

Cheer up or I'll give you a Chelsea Smile.
Smile or I'll cut your face from ear to ear.

HINT

Be sure to visit Oxford Street during your stay for its excellent shopping. But watch out, the area's notorious for pickpockets (SEE MAP POINT A).

Getting around

Ways to travel

London offers many forms of public and private transport, from the subway to taxi cabs. With so much to see and do, be careful not to get lost. You could find yourself in the wrong part of town (SEE MAP POINT B).

Motors (Cars)

Tube (Subway)

Lorry (Truck)

Jam Sandwich (Police Car)

Useful Phrases

Mind if I scab a lift?
Can I get a ride home?

Fancy going for a ride in my motor?
Get in the car.

Mop your chevy up; you're getting claret all over the boot of my car.
Your face is bleeding all over my car trunk.

HINT If you're polite, you may even convince a local to give you a lift.

HINT Don't forget, in London they drive on the left side of the street.

Pubs

Pubs are the focal point of social life in London. From the trendy bars of Soho to the seedy dives of the East End, you'll never be far from a good pint (SEE MAP POINT C).

Useful Phrases

Fancy a swift one?
Would you like a drink?

Get your laughin' gear 'round that.
Here's your drink.

Anymore gyp and you'll be drinkin' a petrol shandy.
Stop annoying me or I'll force gasoline down your throat.

HINT

Some pubs have Internet access. Just be careful with your password. Hackers love a new identity to show around town.

Clubs

If you like going out, London offers a wide variety of nightclubs that cater to every taste. The loud music and dark corners provide a perfect environment for finding new romance or settling old scores (SEE MAP POINT D).

Did you know?

Many nightclubs are a front for illegal activity. It's tempting to join in a backroom card game, but remember that sometimes even when you win you end up getting beaten.

HINT

With a little friendly persuasion, the bouncer is certain to let you into the VIP room.

Recreation

Sports and other local entertainment

Londoners enjoy a variety of sporting activities, from soccer to snooker. In this active town, you're never far from a spirited physical contest.

Common sporting activities include:

- Football (Soccer)
- Cricket
- Horse Racing
- Darts
- Dog Fighting
- Bare-knuckle Boxing

HINT

If you like blood sports, boxing is very popular in Shoreditch. With so many privately owned clubs, you're sure to find a fight any night of the week (SEE MAP POINT E).

Useful Phrases

Fancy putting a few quid on the nags?
Would you like to bet on the horses?

Are you doggin' me up?
Are you looking at me?

I'm losin' my rag with you.
I'm losing my temper.

I'm gonna use your bollocks for snooker balls.
I intend to use your gonads for sporting apparatus.
